Upper Explosion Limit

Not Determined

Lower Explosion Limit

Not Determined

Auto-Ignition Temp.

Not Determined

Extinguishing Media

Carbon dioxide, dry chemical, water fog, water spray, foam.

DO NOT USE WATER

Special Fire Fighting Procedures

Use self contained breathing apparatus when fighting large fires.

Section 6 - Accidental Release Measures

Spill and Leak Requirements

Small leaks-mop up, wipe up, or soak up immediately. Large spills-contain material and ventilate area. Do not dump into sewers, on the ground, or into any body of water.

Section 7 - Handling and Special Storage

Handling and Special Storage

Keep containers closed when not in use. Store in a cool place with adequate ventilation. Storage location should be constructed for containment and dilution/neutralization of spills.

Additional Storage Requirements

Section 8 - Exposure Controls and Personal Protection

Eye Protection

Wear approved eye protection to safeguard against potential eye contact, irritation or injury. Use chemical goggles if material is to be sprayed.

Skin Protection

Wear appropriate equipment to alleviate prolonged skin contact, which may consist of: chemical resistant gloves, and aprons.

Comments

Maintain ventilation to keep vapor concentration below the PEL/TLV.

TLV - Threshold Limit Value. An estimate of the average safe airborne concentration of a substance in representative conditions under which it is believed that nearly all workers may be repeatedly exposed day after day without adverse effect. TLVs are published annually by the ACGIH (American Conference of Governmental Industrial Hygienists).
 PEL - Permissible Exposure Limit. The OSHA limit of employee exposure to chemicals; found primarily in 29 CFR 1910.1000.
 STEL - Short Term Exposure Limit. The maximum concentration for a continuous 15-minute exposure period.
 IDLH - Immediately Dangerous to Life and Health. The concentration of a airborne chemical which may cause irreversible health effects or death.
 Ceiling - The maximum allowable concentration to which an employee may be exposed.
